ns-3 Training		Workshop on ns-3	WNS3 (tentative) Annual Meeting	Workshop on Wireless Network Performance Evaluation

The ns-3 Consortium will conduct its annual meeting June 13-17, 2016, at the University of Washington campus in Seattle. This week-long meeting is the primary event where ns-3 users, developers, and maintainers gather to talk about the open source project, and includes training sessions on the simulator, two academic workshops, and an annual meeting of the Consortium organization. The ns-3 Consortium organizes this meeting as one of its roles in serving as the administrative and sustainment arm of the open source project.

The ns-3 Consortium keeps participation fees low for attendees and therefore solicits industrial sponsorship of the event. We invite any companies interested in sponsoring some part of this event to contact the consortium (consortium@nsnam.org) to discuss possibilities.

We have defined two levels of sponsorship available for a small fee:

Industrial sponsor of WNS3: $500

- Company logo featured on sponsor page of WNS3 workshop webpage
- Company name and logo placed on posterboard signage at on-site registration area
- Company recognized as a sponsor in the official proceedings
- One complimentary WNS3 registration (value of $200)

Refreshment break sponsor: $200

- Company logo featured on refreshment sponsor section of WNS3 workshop sponsor page
- Company name and logo placed on posterboard signage near the food/ beverage table for the break being sponsored

In addition, the ns-3 Consortium is always looking for new members. Membership entitles attendees to some free ns-3 training and placement of their logos on the website. Please visit <https://www.nsnam.org/consortium/about/> for more information.
